From: Route Fifty Today
To: Joe Bianco
Subject: The push to build a coast-to-coast trail for cyclist and pedestrians
Date: Monday, February 4, 2019 4:02:19 AM

Problems viewing? View as a web page

Connecting state and local government leaders

Route Fifty Today February 4, 2019

The Push to Build a Coast-to-Coast Trail for Cyclists and Pedestrians

The Push to Build a Coast-to-Coast Trail for Cyclists and Pedestrians

BILL LUCIA | "We're confident that this is something we can do," says a policy adviser with the advocacy group backing the idea.

State Integration of GIS Into Elections Is Slow Going

DAVE NYCZEPIR | The scattered nature of voter information is the biggest hurdle, but geospatial data can mean the difference between a voter receiving the proper ballot.

When Regulating New Tech Harms Public Safety

CARL SZABO | SPECIAL TO ROUTE FIFTY | COMMENTARY | Facial recognition technology is new and nascent, but not a departure from the innate abilities humans are born with. Efforts by states to limit its use harms public safety and deters innovation.

Brought to you by Tenable

Connected States and Localities

In this special report, Route Fifty takes a closer look at data analytics, smart city technology, autonomous vehicles and advanced signaling—all things that are driving innovation and improvements in mobility.

Download Now

Virginia Governor Mulls Options Amid More Calls to Resign

MICHAEL GRASS | STATE AND LOCAL ROUNDUP | RFID tracking chips in garbage cans ... another Wis. city looks to tiny houses for homeless … and Anchorage ice-scratchers.

To Control Drug Prices, States May Have to Face Off Against Feds

MICHAEL OLLOVE | Detailed proposals are on the table in 41 states.

Congress, White House Remain Sharply Divided Two Weeks From Another Shutdown

ERIC KATZ | President Trump suggests there could be another approach to avoiding another closing of agencies.

Cities Aren't Built for Parents

ALIA WONG | THE ATLANTIC | The death of a young mother who fell in a New York City subway station has drawn scrutiny to the inaccessibility of public-transit systems.

Brought to you by Tenable

Connected States and Localities

In this special report, Route Fifty takes a closer look at data analytics, smart city technology, autonomous vehicles and advanced signaling—all things that are driving innovation and improvements in mobility.

Download Now

ROUTE FIFTY // CUSTOMER SERVICE // CONTACT US // PRIVACY POLICY // UNSUBSCRIBE

This message was sent from Route Fifty to jbianco@bakersfieldpd.us. You have been sent Route Fifty Today because you have opted in to receive it. Note: It may take our system up to two business days to process your unsubscribe request and during that time you may receive one or two more newsletters. Thank you for reading Route Fifty Today.

Government Executive Media Group, 600 New Hampshire Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20037